

Example of a Timeline

The picture above is an example of a timeline. This timeline is about the development of Apple and its iPhone; your assignment is to make a timeline for the Cold War. On the website you can see the first two dates that you have to include on your timeline.

We wish you good luck on designing your own timeline and we are looking forward to see interesting and creative timelines. You may add pictures on your timeline if that helps you to explain which event you are talking about.
